

WOMAN BANKED $9,600 ON INCOME OF $16 A WEEK

Mrs. Keller Provided for Three

WENT "SHY" ON FOOD.
Sunday's Roast Made to Last
the Whole Week—Banked in Eamer's Name.

In the report of Appraiser Martin in the Surrogate's Court yesterday a striking disclosure was made of a woman's life of toil and privation in which, after thirty years, she had accumulated savings of $9,600.

The estate under appraisement was that of Mrs. Catherine Keller, who died in April, 1911, leaving $11,111.21 in bank.
The decedent's niece, Mrs. Ella A. Cottrell, testified before the appraiser that all of this money, with the exception of $2,500, had been saved by her aunt, after paying all expenses for a family of three out of an income of $16 a week.
The bank accounts were in the name of Mrs. Keller and her daughter. She testified the money came from her earnings.

Mrs. Cottrell said she had lived with her aunt since she was nine years old, except for a year following her marriage. Then she returned to Mrs. Keller with her infant and went to work as a water color artist copying pictures for a publishing house. At night she scrubbed floors, and from these two sources earned $16 a week.

This money she turned over to her aunt, who gave her back 20 cents a day for carfare and luncheon, paid the rent for the flat and furnished all the food for the family. It was her practice to buy a piece of beef for Sunday dinner and make it last for the rest of the week. Often, witness said, she was hungry.

Her clothing, Mrs. Cottrell said, cost little, one dress sufficing for two years.
So poorly nourished was the worker that four months after Mrs. Keller's death her mind gave way and she was placed in the asylum for six months.

Other witnesses bore out Mrs. Cottrell's testimony. Dr. Joseph H. Byrne, the family physician, said that he had known Mrs. Keller as the sole support of the family, and that, although they lived in an excellent apartment owing to Mrs. Keller's desire to offer a good appearance, he had never seen any evidence of food in the home at No. 430 East One Hundred and Thirty-fifth street.

GOLD WATCH OFFERED BELONGED TO ANOTHER

Detective Uses Deduction and Inscription Does the Rest—
Booty of Hold-Up

Central Office Detective James Murray was making a rounds of the Sixth avenue pawnshops today when in a shop at No. 191 he saw a shabby dressed man offering a gold Howard watch. Murray figured the watch was a much better timepiece than such a man had a right to and he arrested him as a suspicious person.

The prisoner said he was Charles White, living at Mills Hotel No. 2, and that the watch was his property. Murray was about to arraign him in the Jefferson Market Court when he heard that Frederick Hammer of No. 43 East and street had been held up and robbed of his watch and between $4 and $5 in cash by four young men in Stanton street near the Bowery shortly after midnight. Hammer's watch, the report said, was identical.

Murray took the watch he had taken from White and found this inscription inside the case:
"Presented to Frederick Hammer by the people of Mount Olivet Memorial Church for twenty-five years' faithful devotion."

White will be arraigned in the Essex Market Court. Murray hopes to learn from him the names of the men who took part in the holdup.

A PIANO Is a Purchase for a Lifetime Judge It Well Before You Buy

New York is constantly having all kinds of instruments flaunted upon the buying public, with all kinds of alluring offers. It is the belief of some advertisers that New Yorkers are the most easily duped people on earth, and many exploiters of pianos have almost proven the truth of the assumption.

Pianos that have been sold in New York for a dozen years at $195 and $210, according to size, are being brought out under other names—or with no name advertised at all—and, because of an exaggerated valuation, have been called a big bargain, AT A MUCH HIGHER PRICE, than the pianos from the same manufacturers, under another name, HAVE BEEN SELLING FOR EVERY DAY FOR A DOZEN YEARS, right in New York City.

There is just one piece of common-sense advice that will appeal to every person that thinks:

Be Wary of the Piano With an UNKNOWN NAME

All good pianos are pretty well known—and all dealers in good pianos are proud to exploit their names. We waited a year to form this first GIMBEL PIANO CLUB. We were waiting to give New York City a sound, HONEST, BIG VALUE event. We turned down a half-dozen alluring propositions, because we had to have

A THOROUGHLY HIGH-GRADE PIANO—A THOROUGHLY WELL-KNOWN PIANO—A PIANO OF DEFINITE VALUE—A LARGE AND GENUINE SAVING

We were rewarded—and those who buy the pianos offered will be rewarded—by securing the BEST NEW PIANOS EVER OFFERED AT SUCH LOW PRICES.

The name of the Piano is a household word. It is a name that has been honored for decades in Conservatories where musical instruction is given; in Conservatories of Music, and in a vast number of other institutions where music is taught. The pianos bear the name, and are the NEW and PERFECT product of

B. SHONINGER CO.

They are Pianos famous for two generations for

Purity of Tone Durability of Construction Depth and Volume Refinement and Finish

The buyer of a SHONINGER Piano secures A THOROUGHLY ARTISTIC INSTRUMENT of which he or she can always be proud, and which will THOROUGHLY AND PERMANENTLY SATISFY THE TRULY MUSICAL EAR.

This Beautiful and Artistic Piano Has Never Been Sold Anywhere for Less Than $325—Our Price for Three Years

The GIMBEL Club $265
Price Is Now

And this beautiful Colonial Shoninger Upright is so infinitely SUPERIOR to other Pianos offered at alleged bargain prices that we hope those who contemplate buying a piano will get an opinion from their music teacher, or some musical friend, before buying any other piano.

$5 Cash Places the SHONINGER
Piano in Your Home
As Soon as Club Membership Is Accepted

If you do not wish to play by hand, this GIMBEL Club also presents the

SHONINGER $600 Player-Pianos at $485 ($5 Cash $3 a Week)

An instrument so infinitely superior to other Player-Pianos sold for less than five hundred dollars that there is no possible comparison. We positively believe that it is the BEST $600 Player-Piano on the market—and MOST OTHER PIANO STORES GET MUCH HIGHER PRICES FOR IT.

These Additional CLUB ADVANTAGES:

RECEIPT IN FULL IN CASE OF DEATH:
If the purchaser should die before the Piano is paid for a fully receipted bill will be given and the family will own the Piano, with nothing further to pay.
PIANO TUNED FOR ONE YEAR at necessary periods, without charge.

FREE MUSIC ROLLS will be provided with each Player-Piano sold in this Club.
